DEFENSE INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20301

21 MAR 1983

U-1072/JSW

Honorable William J. Casey
 Director
 Central Intelligence Agency
 Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Mr. Casey Casey:

The Defense Intelligence Agency is hosting its annual Indications and Warning Seminar on 17 and 18 May 1983 in the Forsman Conference Room (1D883), the Pentagon. The theme of the seminar is "Indications and Warning in the Future." Participants include senior intelligence representatives from the Unified and Specified Commands, the Services, Office of the Secretary of Defense, Central Intelligence Agency, Department of State, and National Security Agency, as well as representatives from the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand. Seminars such as this have been held annually or semiannually since 1975. They provide an opportunity for the direct exchange of thoughts and ideas concerning indications and warning intelligence problems facing the world today and in the future. Ultimately, these seminars serve to improve our capability to provide national leaders with better and more timely intelligence and warning.

You are cordially invited to address the seminar at 1300-1400 hours on 18 May 1983. Should you accept, a presentation on "Economic Indications and Warning" would be most appropriate. Because of your extensive experience in intelligence, and particularly as Director of the Central Intelligence Agency, your comments would certainly be of great interest to all those present.

Seminar discussions and presentations may be classified up to the SI/SAO [redacted] level. My project officer for the seminar is [redacted] DIA/JSW-1, 697-6801, gray 3173. Please feel free to contact him for any additional details you may need.
